CONFERENCE
SOVIET SOCIALISM IN LABOR, MATERIAL CULTURE, AND MIGRATION: A CONERENCE HONORING LEWIS SIEGELBAUM

FRIDAY, March 23

MSU Union, Lake Huron Room (49 Abbot Road, East Lansing)

4:00 PM-5:30PM
Panel I: Oxford Connections
Moderator: Naoko Wake, Michigan State University

Yves Charbit, CEPED, Université Paris Descartes, emeritus
“Does religion explain fertility changes in developing countries?”

Mark Harrison, University of Warwick
“The Soviet Economy: The Late 1930s in Historical Perspective”

6:00PM
Keynote Speech
Diane Koenker, School of Slavonic and East European Studies UCL

“‘Byl, no seichas’ netu’: Encounters with the USSR”

SATURDAY, March 24

MSU Union, Lake Huron Room

9:00AM-10:20AM
Panel II: Science and Society
Moderator: Charles Keith, Michigan State University

Christine Ruane, University of Tulsa
“Bolotov's Ekonomicheskii magazin as a Source for Russian Women's History”

Brandon Gray Miller, Southern Methodist University
“Moda and the Modern Man: Fashion and Masculinity in the Soviet Sixties”

Amy Nelson, Virginia Tech
“Hybrid Vigor: The Agency of Dogs in Space”

Kate Brown, University of Maryland, Baltimore County
“The Great Chernobyl Acceleration”
10:30AM-11:50AM
Panel III: Doing and Remembering History
Moderator: Ed Murphy, Michigan State University

Kitty Lam, University Liggett School
“Teaching the Great Purges through Simulation”

Doug Priest, Independent Scholar
“Doing Russian History in Public”

Jim Von Geldern, Macalester College
“Replanting Vladimir on the Black Sea Coast: A Prelude to March 2014”

Lunch: 11:50AM-1:00PM

1:00PM-2:20PM
Panel IV: Either Side of the Revolution
Moderator: Sean Forner, Michigan State University

Joseph Bradley, University of Tulsa
“The Alt-Right in Late-Imperial Russia”

Sean McDaniel, Michigan State University
“‘Quantity and Quality’: Russian Resettlement and the Fate of Kazakh Horse Herders in the Steppe”

Dan Orlovsky, Southern Methodist University
“1917: Revolution or Civil War?”

Matthew Pauly, Michigan State University
“Guardianship and ‘Shelter-Ships’: Children’s Welfare and Civic Order in Odessa”

2:30PM-3:50PM
Panel V: Migration, Identity, and Citizenship
Moderator: Michael Stamm, Michigan State University

Natalie Belsky, University of Minnesota Duluth
“Transformed Identities: Profiles of Two Evacuee Diaries”

Liao Zhang, Michigan State University
“Albazino: Making the History of Russia’s First Settlement on the Amur River”

Lyudmila Austin, Michigan State University
“‘A Small Death’: A Migrant’s Story of Decentralization in the Soviet Space since 1989”
Krista Goff, University of Miami and Kennan Institute
“Rethinking Resettlement and Deportation: A Case of Azerbaijani Migration, 1948-1953”

4:00PM-5:20PM
Panel VI: American Connections and Comparisons
Moderator: Lisa Fine, Michigan State University

Meredith Roman, SUNY The College at Brockport

Duncan Tarr, Michigan State University
“The Political Thought and Global Imagination of Detroit’s Revolutionary Union Movements”

Emily Elliott, Michigan State University
“‘Soviet Dreams’ and the Lake Placid Archipelago: Labor, Mobility, and Usability in the 1980 Olympics”

5:30PM-6:00PM
Closing Remarks

Ronald Suny, University of Michigan
“A Perspective from Left Field: The Subversive Scholarship of Lewis Siegelbaum”